

Tips to Succeed on Academic Recovery

Academic Recovery is a program designed to help foster student success.

- If you are on Academic Recovery, you were placed there by your School Dean. If you have questions as to why you are on Recovery, please contact your School Dean's office.
- Check the Academic Recovery website often for updates and announcements at <http://www.canton.edu/recovery/>.
- You must do a minimum of 3 hours or 6 hours (depending on your Intervention Level) in a tutoring lab each week. If you have a legitimate reason for not being able to complete hours, contact Dr. Mott's office BEFORE hand at 315-386-7425 to discuss the situation.
- If all of your classes are online, and you live on campus, you are still required to do the 3 or 6 hours of tutoring per week in the labs.
- Be sure you know what time the tutoring lab(s) you use close on any given day. See the Tutoring website at <http://www.canton.edu/tutoring/> for updated hours. Don't wait until the last minute to do your hours. Stuff happens!
- Note: the beginning of the week for tutoring is Sunday. Tutoring hours begin Sunday and end on Saturday.
- You should not miss any classes. Excused absences can only be obtained from the Vice President for Student Affairs (www.canton.edu/dos/absences.html) for the following reasons: participation in intercollegiate athletics, course/curriculum field trips, religious observances, military service obligations, and Title IX-related accommodations. Any other absences will need to be discussed with your instructor.
- For additional assistance, you can also stop in at the Advising Center in The Ready Center (Miller Campus Center 224, phone: 315-379-3954, e-mail: advising@canton.edu).
- If you have any type of problem, get help immediately. Don't wait – it won't go away by itself – it will only get worse.
- It has been determined that you should be given a second chance to be successful in your academics. THIS IS YOUR SECOND CHANCE!
