

Micro Course Monday – Disaster Ready (Without the Tinfoil Hat)

Micro Course	Disaster Ready (Without the Tinfoil Hat)
Date	Monday, September 8th
Time	3:00-4:00pm
In-Person Location	Dana Hall 228 – campus map – parking in lot 5
Online Link	Live online in Collaborate
Presenter	RJ Thayer

Practical Emergency Preparedness for Real People. Think emergency preparedness is just for doomsday preppers? Think again. In recognition of National Preparedness Month, we'll take a down-to-earth look at real-world threats, from power outages and cyberattacks to supply disruptions and severe weather and we will walk through practical steps you can take to be ready.

Still interested in the topic?

If you want to learn more about how to be prepared for emergencies, enroll in the Emergency Management microcredential. The microcredential includes 6 credits;

- EADM 205 – Hazard Assessment & Mitigation
- EADM 220 – Emergency Planning
- EADM 222 – Emergency Management & Response
- EADM 320 – Recovery & Resilience