

Micro Course Monday – Engaging Advocacy: Mechanisms for Social Change

Micro Course	Engaging Advocacy: Mechanisms for Social Change
Date	Monday, February 19th
Time	3:00-4:00pm
In-Person Location	Dana Hall 228 – campus map – parking in lot 5
Online Link	Live online in Collaborate
Presenter	Christina Leshko

MICRO COURSE MONDAY

A D V O C A C Y

Join Christina Leshko on Monday,
February 19th at 3:00pm in Dana 228
or live online in Collaborate

From scrolling through social media to coalition building, this micro-course session explores how we can become advocates at any level. This session explores strategies for supporting a cause or policy important to you, whether locally, nationally, or globally. We will discuss opportunities for supporting social movements, introduce mechanisms for fostering social change, and emphasize practical applications for integrating activist work into our busy lives.

Still interested in the topic?

Enroll in SOCL 312 – Advocacy, Activism & Social Change as a liberal arts elective.

Enroll in the Campaigning & Community Advocacy microcredential, which includes 3 courses (9 credits) to gain an understanding of working in the non-profit sector, specifically focusing on social justice and advocacy campaigns.