

Micro Course Monday – National Kindergarten Day: Eric Carle & the Very Hungry Caterpillar

Micro Course	National Kindergarten Day - Eric Carle & the Very Hungry Caterpillar
Date	Monday, April 21st
Time	3:00-4:00pm
In-Person Location	Dana Hall 228 – campus map – parking in lot 5
Online Link	Live online in Collaborate
Presenter	Maureen Maiocco

MICRO COURSE MONDAY
National Kindergarten Day
Eric Carle & The Very Hungry Caterpillar

Join Maureen Maiocco on Monday, April 21st at 3:00pm in Dana 228 or live online in collaborate

Do you remember “The Very Hungry Caterpillar”? Learn more about children’s author Eric Carle [1929-2021] and the 70+ books created throughout his career as a self-proclaimed “picture writer”. This engaging presentation will include the inspiration and meaning behind several of Eric Carle’s children’s books.

Still interested in the topic?

If you want to develop a better understanding child development, consider enrolling in the Child Care microcredential. The microcredential includes 9 credits exploring ECHD 101 – Intro to Early Childhood, ECHD 121 – Wellness in Young Children, and ECHD 131 – Infants & Toddlers.

If you want to explore your own literary talents, enroll in the Fiction Writing microcredential. The microcredential includes 6 credits, ENGL 315 - Short Fiction: The Art of the Tale and ENGL 351- Advanced Fiction Workshop.