Juan F. Diaz '23

Caguas, Puerto Rico

My name is Juan F. Diaz, but I'm also known as 'Juancho', and I'm a transfer student from The College of New Rochelle (now Mercy College), where I used to pursue a career in Communications with a minor in Spanish. I transferred to SUNY Canton because of the opportunities offered in the Sports Management program and their hands-on courses. I personally recognized that the transition from Puerto Rico to Canton, New York, seems a bit 'extravagant', but the decision has been and is worth it. One of many things I like to do here at SUNY Canton is spend an entire day in the athletic facility. I also like having family time with the ones I love and closer to me. Becoming a student ambassador means for me responsibility and dedication; two things that I have learned on my different levels of education and in my athletic career.

I have played baseball my entire life and in all my years at college. When the days come to an end, I will use my knowledge to share it with the youth in Puerto Rico and the United States.

GREAT MAJORS, GREAT CAREERS.
