

Karyssa Maynard `25

Chepachet, Rhode Island

My name is Karyssa Maynard, and I am a senior in the Veterinary Technology Major. The reason I chose SUNY Canton was because I wanted to travel a little bit far from home and earn my bachelor's as a vet tech. Living on campus has been a fantastic experience, as I can travel with my cat, Moo, and guinea pigs, Snickers and Skittles. Being able to have animals has been a great conversation starter and has led me to obtain great friends from my dorm. The college has many great events, from ice skating in the winter to making your own tote bags with any picture you choose! Back at home, I work on many different farms and care for many other animals, such as draft horses, donkeys, goats, chickens, etc. Being around animals has always given me so much joy, and I plan to carry out my passion for vet school upon graduation here at SUNY Canton.

When I am not studying for all of my classes, I take the opportunity to walk around campus or into town. I love to take advantage of the local trails or even just walk across the footbridges on campus. Any time I can go outside to read or study, I'll take my cat into the grass and sit to enjoy the world around me. The campus is an extremely friendly place, and everyone is very social!

GREAT MAJORS, GREAT CAREERS.
