

Micro Course Monday – Totality in Canton

| | |
|--------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|
| Micro Course | Totality in Canton |
| Date | Monday, January 22nd |
| Time | 3:00-4:00pm |
| In-Person Location | Dana Hall 228 – campus map – parking in lot 5 |
| Online Link | Live online in Collaborate |
| Presenter | Aileen O'Donoghue |

This micro course covers the lunar and solar eclipses in general, including why they don't happen every month. You'll also learn about the details of the total solar eclipse that will occur in North America on April 8, 2024. The phenomenon and what people can expect to experience will be discussed.

Still interested in the topic?

Join SUNY Canton on Monday, April 8th as we observe the solar eclipse on campus.

Enroll in ESCI 107 – Earth Science, offered as a 4-credit lecture and laboratory to satisfy your liberal arts science requirement.